

SCAO SCHEDULED ACTIVITIES FOR THE REST OF THIS SUMMER
Please mark your Calendar

Saturday July 24th, 2004

Wonder how to make you children listen to you? Tips to make them hear you again, including positive reinforcement, planning ahead, and effective discipline.

SCAO Parenting Session

Subject: How to talk to kids so kids can listen, and how to listen so kids can talk

When: Saturday July 24, 04, 2.00-4.00pm
Where: 1365 Richmond Road, across the street from Lincoln Hights Mall (Wall Mart side) and close from Carling Ave and Richmond Road intersection.

CHILD CARE available for children 6 years and under.
 Parking available free.

Try and see the problem from your children's point of view. For example, you keep telling your children to clean their rooms, but they won't do it. Is it because it's not cool to have clean rooms? Will having clean rooms make it harder to find things? How did you feel about cleaning your room when you were a child? By understanding their perspective, you may be that much closer to a solution.

SCAO reached an agreement with Pinecrest Queensway health & Community Center which allows us to utilize great programs and services. They will provide us with location & resources (professional staff) and child care during activities and more. This is an excellent opportunity for our community. And success of this event will pave the road to the next one and show our commitment, which will entitle us for more and give us the courage to pursue more services that others pay for it. Please help us help you by your commitment to such events
